Nature Journaling for Kids – Native Trees – June 14th

The Friends of Six Mile Creek and the Natural Areas Commission of the City of Ithaca continue their educational series for children on June 14th. Nature Journaling for Kids will introduce children to the natural history of the Six Mile Creek Natural Area.

Trees are an important part of the environment around us; they provide us with clean air, shade, food, and materials. Join Brett Schneiderman to learn about some of the trees in our local forests, how to identify them and what they can tell us about the greater environment.

Meet at the parking area of the Mullholland Wildflower Preserve just off Giles Street at 1:00PM. Journals will be provided or bring your own. (If you got a journal at the last journaling event, please bring it!)

For children age 7-12 accompanied by a parent. No sign up required. Contact Laurie (272-8491) or Anna (379-0924) for more information.

Celebration of Art & Nature at the Lab of Ornithology - June 14th

Please come for a morning of art and nature on June 14th from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. Author and illustrator Anita Schmidt-Kyanka will be at the Cornell Lab of Ornithology for a guided bird walk, book reading, and art activities. Anita wrote and created paintings for the book Sapsucker Blues: The Story of an Endearing Family of Great Blue Herons. Original paintings from the book are on display at the Cornell Lab through the summer. The story is based on the lives of the leggy birds that many thousands of people saw grow up on Sapsucker Woods pond by watching the Lab's live heron cam. For more information call (800) 843-2473
